

Samant Joins GlobalLogic

Shashank Samant, former president of North America with Ness Technologies, has joined GlobalLogic as president. Based in GlobalLogic's Silicon Valley office he will oversee the company's worldwide business development, business management, and marketing, and sales. Prior to joining Ness, Samant established offshore development centers for CITI, HP, and IBM. At GlobalLogic he will grow its global delivery center business, in which GlobalLogic helps technology clients establish offshore, client-owned, GlobalLogic-managed software engineering centers.
