Privacy Policy – How we process your personal data

Considering that you have provided your personal data to us in the Event entry form, we would like to tell you what we do with it (in accordance with the Regulation (EU) of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC).

I. What personal data do we collect and what is the purpose and legal basis for its processing?

The extent of personal information that we process includes information provided by you in the Event entry form, e.g.: your name, surname, country of current location, and email address. We can process your personal data in order to organize the Event and enable you to take part in it (in particular in order to verify the identity of persons entering the Event's venue – in case of an on-site Event). You are not obligated to provide that data, although that would prevent you from taking part in the Event. We mark the necessary data on the entry form.

We also want to collect data about your experience in IT (e.g. question “Are you a student”). This data we need for bringing you a better educational experience through the event, and also for personalized marketing offers if you opted in to receive them.

The Event can be recorded in video recordings or photographs, therefore your image may be recorded and used to inform about the course of the Event and for promotional purposes of GlobalLogic.

The use and dissemination of your image can consist, in particular, of its publication in the original form or in processed form (i.e. edited) on the website of GlobalLogic, entities from the capital group to which GlobalLogic belongs, and also in social media e.g. on Facebook, YouTube, Vimeo, LinkedIn, etc., in a way allowing it to be seen by a group of people not specified in advance.

Data is collected for the purposes of organization, settlement, and completion of the Event.

We will process your personal information also for GlobalLogic promotional purposes, such as invitations to events and competitions organized by GlobalLogic, including, if you gave such consent, by email.

The legal basis in the scope related to your participation in the Event is entering into and performing a contract (the rules) (Article 6.1(b) of the GDPR) and with regard to informing about the course of the Event and marketing/promotion of GlobalLogic, defense against any claims and statistical purposes – our legitimate interests (Article 6.1(f) of the GDPR).

II.Retention period of your personal data

Your data as an Event Participant will be processed for the period necessary for proper execution and settlement of the Event, and for promotional purposes (like invitation to take part in other events organized by GlobalLogic) until you resign from data processing for that purpose, including receipt of any further invitations/newsletter.

Your image, in case of its possible recording in connection with your participation in the Event, may be available in mediums such as the Internet for an indefinite period of time.

The period of processing may, however, be extended in case of any claims, in particular by the periods of their expiration, any disputes, or if we are required to do so due to relevant legal requirements.

III. Who has access to your personal data?

Access to your personal data will be given exclusively to appropriately authorized employees or associates of GlobalLogic, partners, consultants, or auditors – to the extent necessary to perform their responsibilities. Your data may be transferred, for example, to providers of hosting services or ICT services, other entities that provide us technical or organizational assistance in the operation of the Landing Page, Event and marketing actions, including communication with Participants, collection of the entry forms, or distribution of invitations, newsletter, etc., including also companies from the GlobalLogic group.

In case your image is recorded and published in public media in connection with your participation in the Event, the group of recipients of your image is therefore unlimited.

GlobalLogic is a global company which means that some companies from the GlobalLogic group and our associates are located outside the European Economic Area (EEA). Each time when personal data is transferred outside the European Economic Area, GlobalLogic applies the required safeguards, including standard data protection clauses adopted pursuant to decisions of the European Commission. You can obtain a copy of the security measures we apply for the transfer of personal data to third countries by contacting us at privacy@GlobalLogic.com.

We may also be obligated – if there is a legal basis for that – to disclose certain information to public authorities as required by proceedings conducted by them.
